

Say 'goodbye' to the insanitary drinking water

June 20th 2007 In a elementary school, which is located in a mountainous area of south-west China, children are very glad to get the safe and clean drinking water from a Naiade.

The local Government official expressed that the Naiade is a very good machine to get the safe drinking water. They will buy much more of the Naiade water disinfection units to offer the clean and safe drinking water for the local children and citizens in the coming days.
